TERMS OF USE

The following are the Terms of Use for licensing images from the National Cowboy & Western Heritage Museum (NCWHM). The Terms are binding, and any violation of the Terms as stated below can result in revoked rights and/or legal action.

Permissions for image usage and one-time publication and/or production rights must be obtained in writing from the NCWHM. Writing refers to the completion of the standardized Image Request Form and/or receiving permissions from the Registrar.

All fees per the current fee schedule must be paid in full prior to rights approval, unless otherwise indicated.

Permissions are granted as one-time use unless otherwise indicated. Permissions allow for only one representation in the published and/or produced material, one language, and one edition. Any additional needed permissions will be completed on an individual basis. World-wide, all language permissions can be obtained with an additional fee to be determined prior to rights approval.

If the Licensee wishes to utilize the images in an analog format and/or digital media other than stated on the Image Request Form, additional rights have to be obtained from the NCWHM and additional fees be charged per the current fee schedule. Image usage on DVDs, CDs, thumbnails, public relations, advertising, websites, trailers, etc. are subject to additional rights and fees.

Images and objects appearing in them, even if owned by the NCWHM, may be protected under third party copyright. It is the Licensee's responsibility to research and secure any such additional copyright and any required fees or royalties. It is not the intention of the NCWHM to impede upon any third party rights and the NCWHM cannot be held responsible if the Licensee is involved in legal action due to violations of third party copyright claims.

Images may not be altered in any way. This includes cropping; altering color, tone, or transparency; superimposition; or extending image across gutter. The Licensee must communicate any wish to take any of the previously mentioned actions or any action which alters the original image. If approved, the Licensee must submit a proof to the NCWHM for approval prior to publication.

Credit lines will be provided by the NCWHM and must be used within the publication, first preference being on the same page as the image, the opposite page, or in the back of the publication. If identification and credit lines are presented differently in the publication, the Licensee must notify the NCWHM, and gain written approval for language and placement.

If Licensee chooses to show a detail of an image, the word "detail" must appear in the credit line, and the entire image must also be included in the publication.

The NCWHM has the right to decline permissions should a request be deemed too substantial or too singular, unless the Licensee, publisher, author, or support staff is working directly with the NCWHM in the case of exhibition catalogs, transcriptions, retrospectives, or other NCWHM related work.

Licensees will send one (1) gratis copy of the publication to the Donald C. & Elizabeth M. Dickinson Research Center, NCWHM.

I acknowledge that I have read and understood the Terms of Use.
