Kolton Moore & The Clever Few to Perform at 2025 Goin' West Music Fest

Texas-based band joins Josh Abbott Band for Sept. 5 concert at National Cowboy & Western Heritage Museum

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 18, 2025 — The National Cowboy & Western Heritage Museum is pleased to announce that Kolton Moore & The Clever Few will perform at the 2025 Goin' West Music Fest, joining previously announced headliner Josh Abbott Band for an evening of powerhouse country music under the Oklahoma sky.

The concert will take place Friday, Sept. 5, 2025, from 7 to 10 p.m., on the Museum's outdoor stage, with doors opening at 6:30 p.m. There will be limited seating at this event.

Formed in East Texas in 2012, Kolton Moore & The Clever Few built a national following through their emotionally raw blend of rock & roll swagger, country hooks and blue-collar storytelling. Frontman Kolton Moore leads the band through songs that explore themes of fatherhood, mental health, and growing up — stories that resonate deeply with fans and have been featured on hit shows like Yellowstone and American Idol.

Their 2023 album A Place That I Call Home, recorded in Memphis with Grammy-winning producer Matt Ross-Spang, reflects a band at the peak of its creative powers, balancing amplified energy with heartfelt lyrical honesty.

The group joins Josh Abbott Band, a leading voice in Red Dirt country, known for hits like "She's Like Texas," "Oh, Tonight" (with Kacey Musgraves), and "Wasn't That Drunk" (with Carly Pearce). Together, these two fan-favorite acts promise a high-energy evening that celebrates the spirit of modern Western music.
